

Changes to Covid Support Services in Braunton

Braunton Community Network has been stood down for now as people have adjusted to a new way of living and there is no longer the need for this level or type of local Covid support. There are some kind-hearted volunteers who are continuing to support a few existing users directly. If you do need community support due to the pandemic there is still help available via North Devon Council's Community Support Hub.

Braunton Community Network was set up at the start of the pandemic and has either assisted directly or put people in touch with volunteers to largely collect prescriptions but also collect shopping as well as various other requests.

During the shielding phase we also regularly checked in on vulnerable people and followed up on prescriptions due, as well as signposting people to other organisations we were working with such as the South Street Food Bank and Braunton Volunteer Bureau.

We would like to thank all volunteers who have given up time to help others during the pandemic, in particular the members who were instrumental in setting up and have been involved in running the network with the Parish Council and Live Well in Braunton. Due to Data Protection we have been asked to delete our data held and are therefore unable to write to everyone directly to inform them of these changes.

North Devon Council's community support hub has a dedicated phone line (01271 388280) available to those who need support who haven't already got help from family, friends, neighbours and support within the local community. 48 hours notice is required for any support services.

If you are unable to reach the support line mentioned you can contact the Braunton Parish Council office (details opposite) and we will endeavour to assist or signpost you to an appropriate organisation.
